Go solo with AE Expeditions' Arctic summer savings

SYDNEY, AUSTRALIA (7/05/2024) – AE Expeditions (part of Aurora Expeditions), the Australian-owned adventure travel company known for immersive, responsible exploration, has today announced incredible savings for solo travellers thinking of going north for the summer.

Valid to June 30, 2024 (or until sold out), adventurous solo travellers can take advantage of no solo supplements, enjoying a guaranteed private cabin on select departures during AE Expeditions' Arctic 2024 season with plenty of options available on unforgettable voyages visiting Greenland, Svalbard, Northwest Passage, Iceland and more.

“Expedition cruising is such a fantastic choice for solo travellers, and we are thrilled to be offering some fantastic value for solo travelers on our upcoming Arctic 2024 season,” commented the company’s Global Head of Sales, David Tanguay.

“Our social and welcoming voyages on our small expedition ships are an ideal option for solo travellers, who make up approximately 30% of our customer base. Our smaller passenger numbers and relaxed approach create an intimate and friendly environment, where passengers’ interactions with the wild natural places we visit become a shared experience. We have had many solo travellers make lifelong friendships on our voyages and return for subsequent adventures with us.”

The no single supplement offer is valid* across several upcoming voyages on the company’s two purpose-built small expedition ships, the Greg Mortimer and the Sylvia Earle, including:
